Handsomeness Eyes

Do not always mean perfect, easy, or restful vision.

Outwardly they may be perfect—inwardly they may be deformed, causing overexertion of delicate nerve and muscle appendages with consequent headaches, indigestion and numerous other bodily ills.

We do not always fit eye glasses and spectacles to make you see better, but to make you see more easily—to rid you of head or eye aches, to improve your general health.

HEALANIS SMOKED

Boat Club Gave Guests Amusement by the Barrel.

Fun galore was on tap last night at the smoker given by the Healanis Boat club at their clubhouse. There was hardly a moment when the guests were not applauding or encoring an entertainer and at the last came a sumptuous repast of sandwiches, salad and other good things too numerous to mention. It was one of the most successful smokers attempted by the club and the committee in charge rose to instant popularity.

Bert Webster, Sam Walker, "Remington" Harrison, Allan Dunn, Dan Renear and Fred Church were responsible for the fine entertainment. The program was well selected and those appearing upon it were the best local talent, augmented by members of the James Neill Company and the Walter Sanford Company.

First there were piano solos by the infant phenomenon, "Sonny" Cunha, followed by excellent piano selections by Mr. Vandell, and the violinist of the Sanford company also contributed some musical gems.

Bert Webster and "Third Base" Kennedy won generous applause for their recitations, but the hit of the evening was the four-round "go" between Jess and Robert Woods. Both men appeared in the arena in ring costume under "Marquis of Kakaako" rules and "hit-the-referee" break. Robert Woods, he with the mighty chest, looked Brodignagian alongside his sylph-like brother who was dubbed the "Kakaako Spider." Sonny Cunha held the watch, borrowed, and Bert Webster essayed the role of referee and ended in being the victim of the glove-sluggers. The first, second, third and fourth rounds showed the brothers as past masters in hugging. It was up to the referee to break them apart and for his trouble in each case was biffed merrily by the pugs. The brothers put up a good show which kept the audience in roars of laughter, especially in the last round when the referee became wedged between the two and almost received a knockout blow himself.

Ernest Kaai & Co., Ltd., received hearty applause for musical selections. The remainder of the program was by Dunn, Kunkel and members of the two dramatic companies. Everybody passed an enjoyable evening amid clouds of tobacco smoke.

HEALING MEN WITHOUT DRUGS

Editor Advertiser: With your permission I wish to give some thoughts from my point of view concerning healing without medicines. I am not speaking in defence of these methods for fear of injury to them by the attacks of doctors or others. No! we, who know and believe in this mighty truth, have no fears from these agitations.

"This is the same 'story as of old,' the seeming persecutions only spreads the truth. Doctors and all, who keep in touch with the world's doings know the facts as to the power to heal by the various methods in use; each one having their own advocates, because proofs innumerable show for themselves, and many doctors of the progressive class are falling in line with these various methods, as hypnosis, suggestion, magnetism, Christian science, mental science, divine science, etc. In fact, they know their success lies in a plentiful use of mental treatments along with their simple medicines.

We, as a world, today are learning to "think and let think," as well as "live and let live." But all do not stand on that broad plane of unfoldment, thus we are not surprised or disturbed when some doctors, officials or laymen steps forth—in their ignorant zeal—to arrest the wheels of progress, and above all we do not condemn them, they are necessary factors in the spreading of advanced ideas, in the civil and economic world, as well as the spiritual.

Yes, my friends, you are correct. The belief in healing without drugs is increasing, not alone in these isles, but the whole world is awakening to their inborn heritage, and no amount of legislation can stop its march of victory, on the contrary it is publicly brought to notice, and starts investigation. In other words it is free advertising.

Seriously, why, does any one presume to dictate to another, how they shall manage their own affairs? Statistics prove the great mortality under the physician's treatments, and honest investigation fails to show one-half or one-fourth the number from any no-drug healers. And again, the fees when any are received, are as nothing to some physician's fees. What healer could have the heartlessness to charge at his office $5.00 for prescribing for a little child's simple cold? We understand how these points are defended by arguing, and we refrain from trying to reason with any one by argument.

Each individual arrives at the truth of things whenever they are ready to Football—Artillery vs. Maile Ilima, Baseball tract, 3:30 p. m. Admission 25 cents.

Basketball—Y. W. C. A. vs. High School, at Punahou, 4:30 p. m.
Indoor Baseball—Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, 8 p. m.

Although the teams playing today are not the leaders in the League, the game promises to be fast and fully as interesting as the other games this season for the reason that the defeated team will be at the foot of the League after today. As neither the Artillery nor the Mailes have any desire to be tail enders both will do their utmost to come out victorious.

Both Punahou and H. A. C. have defeated the soldiers by a larger score than they have the Mailes, and according to this, the latter should be winners, but the soldiers are practising hard and with their heavier weight and with Bennett at full, they should make good holes in their opponent's line. The Mailes have the advantage in punting, and James will no doubt be used to a considerable extent in this line if the odds are against them. They also have the advantage in speed. The lineups will probably be as follows:

Maile Ilima.	Artillery.
Hatfield, r. e.	L. e. Covell
Allen, r. t.	L. t. Ward
Robertson, r. g.	L. g. Ludlam
Buckle, center	center, Allen
Richardson, l. g.	r. g. Perry
P. Jarret, l. t.	r. t. Coulter
Mays, l. e.	r. e. Hart
B. Clark, q. b.	q. b. Greenwalt
Simpson, l. h. b.	r. h. b. Foley
James, r. h. b.	l. h. b. Modlin
Heilbron, f. b.	f. b. Bennett

The High School and Iolani teams will meet tonight in the Indoor Baseball League series at the Y. M. C. A. The line-up will be as follows:
High School—H. Clark, c.; E. Desha, p.; P. Schmidt, 1b.; H. Williams, 2b.; D. Sherwood, 3b.; S. Dwight, ss.; H. Holt, R. Clark, fielders.

Iolani—D. Keoho, c.; A. M. Keoho, p.; J. R. Sousa, 1b.; M. Gurida, 2b.; L. Evans, 3b.; T. Evans, ss.; F. Becher, R. Jordan, fielders.

search for it and the search need not be long or far. Our great teacher, Jesus, said: "It was nigh even in our hearts." And many are finding that promised "kingdom within," and bringing it in their earthly minds, which soon transforms it into the Christ-mind, and there, friends, lies the secret of this healing faith and power and not kahunaism.

But, what, if here and there one goes to the other world through an over-zeal of the belief of the healer, are they the only ones who make mistakes? Physicians acknowledge that much of their knowledge is gained by the mistakes that occur in treating their patients. Is not the same true in all departments of learning?

Can healers or physicians stay the Karmic law (cause and effect) that steps in and decides when, man or child, shall "go or stay?"

Come now, let us bow to the inevitable and gracefully accept the "new conditions," and bid the old "god speed" and try to realize the facts that our great and glorious advancements in this world, are correspondences of the work going on in the invisible world.

Yes! healing without drugs is gaining a momentum that no earthly power can stop, and every lover of humanity should hail with gladness these truths which Jesus demonstrated when on earth, and commanded His followers to do likewise, and "the truth shall make you free."

Thin Blood

Thin blood always makes trouble. Your circulation is very poor, you have cold hands and feet. Your nerves are weak, you are despondent and discouraged. Your stomach is bad, you have indigestion and sick headache. Your muscles are weak and you can hardly drag about the house. But there is a prompt cure.

Mrs. M. Archer, of Hobart, Tasmania, sends her photograph and says: "My blood was so thin and my circulation was so poor that my fingers were cold and blue all the time. I lost all energy and was almost lifeless. But Ayer's Sarsaparilla soon restored vitality to my whole system. It purified my blood and made it rich and healthy. I believe it is the greatest medicine in the world for the blood."

TOWN MEETING

much Breckons in this, and that he didn't believe Congress would pass the act anyway, as it couldn't be done in less than six weeks.

ACHI HAS A NEW ONE.

Senator Achi wanted a session of the legislature and wanted it badly. He said Mr. Thurston didn't want the county act, but the majority wanted it. The Supreme Court would knock it out and when the county was inaugurated no banker or merchant would trust the government. If the act is found illegal the Governor would call on the legislature.

"The Supreme Court is here for the people and if the majority decides here tonight, the court will sit tomorrow. Mr. Stewart says the lawyers want their fees, but I guess Mr. Thurston and Mr. Stewart and Mr. Achi will act without a retainer. It is the duty of every lawyer to do this and if no other lawyer is willing to take it I will fight for it. Let us demand that the Supreme Court meets and if they won't ask the President to remove them, and he will do it, too."

"If the legislature is called now it will do its duty. Everyone wants a county act. I believe that the investigation by the grand jury was a good lesson for them."

MARKHAM PUT OUT.

George Markham wanted to talk as a citizen of Hawaii, as representing his constituents among the natives. "I don't favor going beyond the limits of this island to get government," he said wildly gesticulating. His further words were drowned in the uproar and the efforts of a policeman who carried him from the hall. Markham did not reappear.

A SOCIALIST NEXT.

Markham was followed by Moroff, a socialist, whom the crowd also attempted to howl down.

"Are you desirous of speaking on the subject before the house?" the chairman asked.

"I do, sir," he replied. Moroff said the meeting was called to come to a sensible and peaceable conclusion. The Territory was between two fires. "I endorse the resolutions," he said. "I also do not believe we should vilify Mr. Hatch. If we can't endorse honorable men we ought to shut up shop. Congress will consider us absolutely unable to take care of ourselves."

"The chair would like to hear you say something about the resolutions," suggested Mr. Smith.

"Well, a new feature has come up since the last meeting." (Laughter). Moroff said the legislature could settle the matter and if not the Supreme Judges would do the job.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS.

Senator Dickey moved that the resolutions be acted upon one at a time, and not as a whole.

The chair ruled that the first vote should be taken on the amendment to the committee resolution as offered by Mr. Thurston. Ashford claimed that the last resolution, offered by himself, should be considered first.

John Hughes claimed that the Ashford motion was not an amendment and the original resolution should be considered first.

Stewart claimed that the new resolutions were substitutes and as such considered as amendments.

Mr. Andrews contended that either one of the two new resolutions could be adopted and yet the committee report could be acted upon. The new report dealt with the Hatch mission, the resolutions dealt with the situation in the Territory. He suggested a vote on all the resolutions, the committee report to be considered first.

Stewart said there were two propositions—those opposed to county government under false faces and those who want to keep county government at home to be killed by the Supreme Court.

G. B. McClellan rose to a point of order, but Stewart had his dander up and wouldn't listen. He said there was a scheme to put the Delegate and Governor in a false position and it was the duty of citizens to see that the first act of the administration and the first bill of the Delegate should be approved.

The chair ruled that the committee report was the first to be considered and that the Ashford and Stewart resolutions were not amendments. Ashford appealed from the ruling of the chair.

Andrews said he favored both the Hatch and the committee resolutions. He did not agree that the lawyers had to be paid to do the work. "It is best not to put all our eggs in one basket; if we are not successful in Congress we ought still to consider the local courts. We can be doing our best here and in Washington at the same time," said he.

"If we take no proceedings here we are where we are," said Crook.

"Nowhere," said Andrews. The chair was sustained in his ruling on a rising vote.

The amendment by Mr. Thurston striking out the section calling on the legislature was then put and killed. Mr. McClellan then spoke for the adoption of the report as a whole, saying it was not necessary to act upon the Hatch resolution.

John Emmelhut wanted to ask one question: "Where will we be at if we pass the resolutions and Congress doesn't act?"

"Here in the Supreme Court," replied Andrews.

"All I can say is that nine-tenths of the American people will take us for a lot of lunatics," was Emmelhut's answer.

Ashford moved to adjourn.

"The chair has not heard that motion," said Mr. Smith.

"You will hear it now," he replied. "I move we ADJOURN-N-N-N," Ashford shouted.

The committee resolutions were then put and adopted as a whole. The Stewart resolution was next adopted after being read and the meeting was adjourned.
